Letter from Bishop Koenig for the Share in the Spirit Collection

Dear Friends in Christ,

It is the generous faithful like you, who keep our Church of Wilmington – alive and strong!

I invite you to support Catholic education.

Catholic education is a gift to the world and to our church. Catholic schools develop young people to be faith-filled servant leaders who impact our communities. Children educated in Catholic schools of the Diocese of Wilmington's 15 elementary schools and four high schools, radiate an intellect, imagination, and emotional intelligence that is rooted in deep faith and spirituality. Our community benefits from these students who become strong leaders. Many of our families are suffering economic hardship. Unemployment, health issues, and overall uncertainty, are lingering in our communities.

More than 1,000 student families applied for assistance.

This year, our Catholic Schools will embark on a school year themed: Companions on the Journey. Their school days will focus on the Spiritual Works of Mercy. I have personally asked our students to pray for you, our faithful parishioners.

I ask that you prayerfully consider a generous gift to the Share in the Spirit collection September 25th and 26th. I am very grateful for your consideration of my request. We are all in this together; we are Companions on the Journey.
